

Today, we are delighted to announce the official launch of a new wholly owned subsidiary of NATA - NATA Education & Advisory Services.

NATA Education & Advisory Services will provide an industry benchmark for learning and advisory services and will be led by myself as General Manager, with my existing NATA Education team also transferring to the new operation.

We will continue to offer industry recognised courses across standards, quality and leadership and will leverage our knowledge, experience and industry understanding to design and deliver new relevant, specialised and customised training courses, but importantly, will now offer new key advisory services to support you and your organisation across all areas of quality management.

The launch of NATA Education & Advisory Services will meet a clear industry need to provide education and support not only within, but beyond the classroom - helping you navigate complex standards, build strong quality and risk systems and lead with confidence.

As a NATA subsidiary, NATA Education & Advisory Services will bring an independent focus, flexibility and specialist capability to provide training and advisory services to our clients, at the highest level.

Our services will include:

Education

- In-person and virtual public courses on standards, quality and leadership
- In-house training
- Customised programs to meet specific organisational needs

Advisory

- Helping organisations set up and prepare for accreditation
- Assisting organisations to become assessment ready
- Supporting ongoing conformance
- Reviewing and writing quality and technical documentation
- Providing expert advice on quality and risk systems
- Providing resources to support management system needs

NATA Education & Advisory Services will be based within NATA's Sydney office and to better understand who we are and how we can help you, I encourage you to watch our short introductory video and visit our new website.

You can also get additional information by reviewing our FAQs document.

We look forward to continuing to provide the highest-level training services and extending advisory services to you and your organisation.
